

RECEPTION TO LEGISLATORS TO BE BIG AFFAIR

Special invitation to the general public to the reception and dance in honor of the legislators at the armory on Saturday evening is extended by Gov. Pinkham. Since the time between the determination to hold the reception and its date is short the governor has asked the press to emphasize this special but general invitation.

It has been the custom for the governor to hold a reception for the legislators toward the close of the biennial sessions to give the people an opportunity to meet those who have been making laws for them. It has been uncertain whether such a reception would be held this year and it was not finally determined to do so until last Sunday. This occasioned a delay in the extending of invitations.

The session of the legislature will end next Wednesday and as most of these legislators, who reside on other islands, will then hurry back to their homes there will be little opportunity for citizens to meet them between now and then. It is to provide such opportunity to the largest possible number that the governor tenders this affair to the legislature.

Not only will the legislators be present at the reception but so, also, will be the heads of departments, territorial officials, city and county officials, representatives of the army and the navy and from practically all of the civic bodies.

No cards of invitation will be required for admission to the armory.

GUARD PLANNING RECRUITING MOVE

Plans for the most efficient campaign of publicity to increase recruiting in the guard the minute Gov. Pinkham signs Senator Coney's bill appropriating $1000 to encourage enlistment in the National Guard of Hawaii, are being considered today by Brig. Gen. Samuel I. Johnson, commanding the territorial guard.

The bill has already passed both houses of the legislature and it is expected will receive Gov. Lucius E. Pinkham's signature at an early date.

Gen. Johnson said this morning his tentative plan is to assign an officer on duty at each of the National Guard armories in the territory, to devote his entire time to encouraging recruiting and bring each regiment up to full war strength.

Advertising will be placed in each newspaper, both in Honolulu and the other islands, and it is hoped that advertising experts of the Honolulu Ad Club will volunteer their services in producing recruit-getting "copy."

Special regulations for the mobilization of the National Guard, dated April 2, and received at guard headquarters here in this week's mail, from the militia bureau, Washington, include instructions for recruiting after mobilization of the guard has taken place.

These are, in brief, that as soon as mobilization has been ordered, a recruiting party consisting of one officer and two enlisted men shall be appointed for each company or larger unit, at the place of rendezvous, which in Honolulu would be the Hotel Street armory. The recruiting parties shall work to bring the company or larger unit to full war strength.

The governor has signed the house bill providing for the establishment of a school for the instruction of deaf, dumb, blind and other defective, or mentally defective, children.

MACADAM TALKS TO ROTARIANS

Postmaster D. H. MacAdam was the principal speaker at the Rotary Club luncheon today at the Commercial Club. He gave an interesting talk on why he came to Honolulu and what he intended to do while in the city.

Of particular interest to the members were his remarks on the magnitude of the business in the post office department. He told of the growth of the parcel post and the postal savings, and remarked that in the postal savings line Honolulu was behind Bisbee and Globe, Arizona, and other cities much smaller in population.

MacAdam said that he would be pleased to assist in the development of deposits and hoped to see an increase in this department. He complimented the local post office force, saying that he found the office in an excellent condition when he arrived. He concluded his remarks by saying that he wanted to give the public the best service that is possible.

Emil Berndt spoke on the outline of plans for "seeing Hawaii" this summer, which would give all an opportunity to learn the beauties of Hawaii. Wallace R. Farrington spoke in support of house bill 463 introduced by Representative Fernandez, which would give Hawaii a sufficient sum to guarantee good roads.

Representative Andrews' voluminous amendments to the senate emergency bill relating to primary law were adopted in the house this afternoon and the measure passed third reading.

The senate bill providing for the appointment of a commission to devise a plan for Waikiki reclamation was referred to the house finance committee this afternoon.

HOUSE MAY STAND BY CHARTER VETO UPON FINAL VOTE

Members of the house faction who are opposing the sustaining of the governor's veto of the city charter bill will have to switch one more vote to their side in order to get the two-thirds majority, 20, necessary to override the veto; that is, if the 19 who yesterday voted for a reconsideration of the action of the house in sustaining the veto stand solid when the final vote is taken on Saturday.

But from the way matters are shaping up now, it is predicted that one of those who voted with the Andrews Murray faction yesterday will switch back when the vote is taken Saturday, thus leaving only 18 favoring quashing the veto, which would not be a sufficient vote to override the veto.

Certain house members, forming a part of the opposition to the charter bill, have been quietly at work since yesterday morning, and they have found that not only one, but possibly three or four who voted with Andrews yesterday, will switch back and buck the charter when it comes up in the house for the last time.

Eleven counted As Sure It was declared today that the 11 who yesterday voted against the reconsideration of the action of the house to sustain the governor's veto, are lined up solidly and that not one will switch when the show-down comes. On the other hand, it is asserted that the lines of the opposition are wavering, and that there will be several changes of front at the last moment.

With a solid 11 votes to uphold the governor's action, and with the possibility of increasing this number, those who have stood back of the administration since the opening of the legislature are confident that they can carry their point on Saturday; and the movement to override the veto will be crushed if these 11 stand together.

Action by the house in sustaining the governor's veto means death to the city charter bill, for this session of the legislature, at least.

BLIND CHILDREN WILL BE TAUGHT

Governor Pinkham has sent word to the legislature that he has signed house bill 427, which will provide for the establishment and maintenance of a school for the training and instruction of blind and other defective children. The appropriation to be made under the act is $35,000.

Other bills signed with this measure are as follows: House Bill No. 331, as Act 126, entitled: "An act to provide for the ascertainment, adjudication and payment of claims by persons whose property was destroyed or injured as a consequence of the filling of unsanitary land in Kewalo district, city and county of Honolulu, and making an appropriation of ten thousand seven hundred dollars ($10,700) therefor."

Senate Bill No. 77, as Act 127, entitled: "An act to amend section 1531 of the Revised Laws of Hawaii, 1915, relating to salaries, county officials."

House Bill No. 324, as Act 128, entitled: "An act to amend section 2 of chapter 2 of the Revised Laws of Hawaii, 1915, relating to the promulgation of laws."

House Bill No. 360, as Act 129, entitled: "An act to amend section 2198 of the Revised Laws of Hawaii, 1915, relating to salaries of the district magistrates."

House Bill No. 314, as Act 130, entitled: "An act to provide an appropriation of three thousand dollars ($3,000) by way of advancement, for the completion of the Palolo belt road."

House Bill No. 355, as Act 131, entitled: "An act requiring the expenditure of certain taxes on the construction, maintenance and repairs of public roads."

House Bill No. 425, as Act 132, entitled: "An act to amend section 3121 of the revised Laws, 1915, relating to fees of notaries public."

House Bill No. 68, as Act 134, entitled: "An act to authorize and provide for the manufacture, maintenance, distribution and supply of electric current for light and power within the district of Hamakua, on the island and county of Hawaii, Territory of Hawaii."

COOKE'S IMPROVEMENT BILL PASSES IN HOUSE

Representative C. H. Cooke's bill authorizing the supervisors to appropriate money from the cash basis fund for street improvements in Honolulu, passed third reading in the house this morning and has been sent to the senate.

The original bill provided for the expenditure of $25,000 for the following improvements:

Permanent Improvement Beretania street from Alapai to Punahoa, $52,500.

Widening hotel street, $18,000. Permanent Improvement Pall road and construction of Pall road wall, $12,000.

The measure was referred to the county committee, which inserted an item of $10,000 for improvements, Liliha street.

NEW BUILDING FOR OFFICES MAY BE CUT FROM BILL

Another item in the loan fund bill that faces deletion is the $350,000 appropriation for a new territorial office building at Honolulu.

The finance committee of the house now has this item under consideration, the reasons for a possible deletion being a rather general opinion that Honolulu, before erecting a new territorial building, should wait until the federal building is begun so that the style of architecture might be followed out in the proposed new structure. The plan now is to erect the proposed territorial building on the vacant lot waikiki of the judiciary building.

As announced in the Star-Bulletin yesterday, the finance committee has been considering inserting an item in the bill for the acquisition of Atkinson, Pauoa and Kaimuki parks, and the figure for this property has been fixed at approximately $55,000.

The committee expects to report out on the bill tomorrow.

Advertising Is Not
One of the Factors in Business that "has to be Tried Out."

¶ The Day when any live merchant has to try out advertising is past.

¶ Advertising has been tested and proved in too many industries, too many lines of wholesaling and merchandising.

¶ In the Face of the record of years, in the face of the successful application of advertising to practically every line of business endeavor,

¶ In the Face of Honolulu a steadily growing town,

¶ No Intelligent Honolulu business man can conscientiously say, "Advertising won't work in my business."
